To Whom It May Concern:

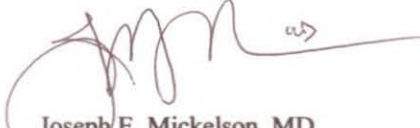

On behalf of the ownership of Park Ridge Medical, LLC, it is a pleasure to voice our support and thanks to Rich Fairservis, and the entire staff of the W.N. McMurry Construction Company for the help and devotion to the project they performed for our company.

Park Ridge Medical, LLC represents a group of investors with a majority interest being held by Western Medical Associates, LLC. In September of 2006, this group set forth, with the much needed assistance of the W.N. McMurry Construction Company, in planning from the ground up a state of the art medical complex that would serve the community of Casper, Wyoming in providing much needed primary health care. At a site that was dirt and sagebrush rose a new two-story, approximately 50,000 square foot facility at 6500 East 2nd Street that is now the largest site of private primary health care in the state of Wyoming.

W.N. McMurry Construction was approached by our group of physicians with minimal construction experience to take on this project. With their assistance, all facets from start to finish were put together with a result that exceeded all expectations. Not only are over 300 patients seen daily, but a state of the art imaging center was built in to the project. The imaging center was built in to include a 1.5 Tesla MRI, a 40 slice CT scanner, a digital XR unit, an ultrasound suite, and a Dexascan imaging unit. The complexity of the architecture, physics, and this equipment made it a difficult task in construction and it was handled in a flawless and professional fashion by the W.N. McMurry Construction Company. The aesthetics of the building itself are also impressive as the building's main entrance is comprised of a concave, two-story glass front, with a daunting porta cochere that is an impressive architectural welcome to our office. The interior design also does not disappoint with a large vaulted entryway behind the glass front.

W.N. McMurry Construction Company was referred to our company as they have held a reputation as one of the finest commercial builders in the region. After completion of the project, and having been in the completed project for the last 16 months, we have been nothing less than pleased and proud of their work. It is without reservation that we would highly recommend the W.N. McMurry Construction Company for any project as they have proven to show the skill and devotion needed with a building as complex as ours.

Sincerely,

Joseph E. Mickelson, MD
